Dear Valued Customers and Suppliers,

July 31, 2026

After 80 years of family-owned and operated ownership, my brother Dave and I are happy to announce the merger of Vamp Screw Products and Fastener Industries Inc. Recognizing the strengths of both companies, there couldn't be a better company to partner up with. As we hand over ownership of the company, we are excited for the opportunities it will offer all of our customers and suppliers moving forward, and for carrying on our family's history.

Vamp Screw Products was founded in 1946 by our grandparents, Paul and Mary Topolewski, together with their sons, Vincent and Albert Topolewski. In 1992, Dave and I took over the company from our father, Albert, and uncle, Vincent. Dave became President, and I became Vice President. I will remain as General Manager to help lead the transition and train Dave Winsjansen to carry on our legacy. All current Vamp employees will be retained, and the company will continue operating under the Vamp Screw Products name.

Fastener Industries, Inc. is the parent company of an employee-owned family of manufacturing and distribution companies serving a wide range of industrial markets. Its family of companies includes Buckeye Fasteners Co., Modern Fasteners Co., The Ohio Nut & Bolt Company, Ohio Nut & Bolt of Canada, Ltd., Brainard Rivet Co., Joseph Industries, Inc., and Die Co., Inc.

The company's roots trace back to The Ohio Nut and Bolt Company, founded in 1905 as a bicycle chain manufacturer before expanding into the production of weld screws in 1926. The organization became employee-owned in 1980 and has continued to grow through strategic acquisitions while maintaining its commitment to employees, customers, and quality.

Thank you for your continued support!

Allan Topolewski
